

SAVE THE DATE

6th

fuse international conference

on knowledge exchange in public health

“The Promise of Engaging the Public in Public Health”

June 11-12, 2024

Cornell University
Ithaca, New York, USA

Host: Cornell University’s Bronfenbrenner Center for Translational Research

The Fuse International Conference welcomes researchers, academics, policymakers, practitioners, students, and individuals or organizations engaging with public health issues to Cornell University in upstate New York. Join us as we engage in discussions around research translation in public health, build sustainable capacity, and spark effective and lasting partnerships!

For more information visit: 2024fuseconference.org

Was this email forwarded to you? Join our e-list!